Rioja wines from the famed region in Spain are coveted by wine lovers throughout the world. Classic for the use of American oak cooperage, Rioja wines tend to be rich and complex. This unique blend yields a soft, luscious wine with smooth tannins and ample fruit. On the nose one will find aromas of black cherry, plum and spice.

Blend Breakdown: A blend of 66% Tempranillo and 34% Grenache.

Tasting Notes:

Aromatics of dark plum with gentle notes of chocolate and roasted coffee bean, with a touch of fresh cedar. Flavor profile pops with bright acid and red fruit at the beginning, most notably raspberry and dark cherry, while touches of plum and cassis complement the spicy finish. This wine has many complex components which each will have a turn to shine throughout the aging in the bottle. The different vintages and varietals contribute many interesting layers. Pair with richer cuisine, including higher acid dishes, grilled meats and stews.
